NORTHCLIFFE FUNERAL HELD IN LONDON

Great Throng of Eminent People in Westminster Abbey

Last Tributes to Memory of Publicist

London, Aug. 17.—The funeral of the late Viscount Northcliffe was solemnized at noon to-day in Westminster Abbey. Seldom has the last tribute to any Englishman whose position was wholly personal and unofficial gathered such an assembly.

The Dean of Westminster undoubtedly expressed the public wish when he asked Lady Northcliffe to permit the rites to be celebrated in the Abbey. The great company of eminent people gathered within the famous edifice as well as the crowds of humbler ones in the street outside gave testimony of this.

The service was arranged by Canon Carnegie. The opening sentences of the burial service, "I am the Resurrection and the Life," were sung in procession to Croft's music, followed by the Psalm, "Lord, Thou Hast Been Our Refuge."

The lesson was from the First Corinthians, 15:55, "Behold, I show you a mystery." Then, following two hymns, the service was concluded with a Sixteenth Century prayer.

"The Dead March in Saul" was played, and as the procession left the Abbey, Chopin's Funeral March. The funeral procession wound its way to St. Marylebone Cemetery in Finchley, a northwestern suburb of London.

Mourners. Chief among the host of mourners were the widow, the late Viscount Northcliffe's aged mother and his six brothers, namely Viscount Rothes, Sir Cecil B. Harmsworth, M. C.

MAYOR TO PROBE NEWS OF CHINESE LOTTERIES HERE

Tours Chinatown But Finds Nothing Wrong

Hears White Men Patronizing Lotteries Now

Chinese lotteries here are running wide open again, Mayor Marchant was informed to-day, and he immediately arranged to have the report with the assistance of other members of the City Police Commission.

The Mayor made it known to-day that he and Police Commissioner W. E. Staneland had made a private tour of Chinatown recently to investigate conditions there. "I found nothing unlawful proceeding in the course of our visit to Chinatown," His Worship said to-day. He added, however, that he had made a note of the report that lotteries were running, and that white men were marking tickets in them, and would investigate the matter further.

During his tour of Chinatown with Mr. Staneland this week the Mayor not only kept his eye open for law violations, but also visited a Chinese theatre just to see what it was like. He was frankly disappointed, he said.

It had been thought that the Chinese lotteries, closed up during the Hall-North police regime, were still idle, so that the information received by the Mayor to-day was a surprise to him.

Vice-President of United States Is Coming To Victoria

Artistic Photography Of City Encouraged By Competitive Test

The Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau is inaugurating a prize photographic contest for the purpose of determining the six most striking views of this city.

The contest is opened on the initiative of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, which controls one of the largest and most important railway systems in the United States. The company is planning an extensive advertising campaign in the Eastern States to promote the scenic, commercial and industrial advantages of the Pacific Northwest.

A feature of this campaign is to be a library of motion picture negatives, based upon the results of the competition. That is to say, after the prize-winning still pictures of the local photographers, have been decided, a motion picture operator will be sent to Victoria who will film the six most striking views of the place from the same viewpoint as is used by the winners in taking the still photographs.

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad offered as prizes $60, to be divided among the first, second and third leading contestants in the prize contest of $20, $20 and $20. This has been supplemented by $40 by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, making the total $100, divided as follows:

First prize—For best collection of six still photographic views, $50.
Second prize—For best collection of six still photographic views, $20.
Third prize—For best collection of six still photographic views, $20.

Conditions of Contest.

The conditions governing the contest will be as follows:
1. The contest will extend over two weeks, commencing Monday, August 21, and all pictures taken in that period in competition must be submitted to the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, Belmont House, by Monday, September 4.

COMPETITIONS LEAD TO COURT

Vancouver Police Move Against Publications' Sport Contests

Vancouver, Aug. 17.—With the firm intention of having close to the line and stopping all baseball and football competitions, a new summons was issued in the matter of The Sportsman, Al Hardy, editor, being the defendant named. He appeared before Magistrate Shaw to-day and, on the application of his counsel, was granted an adjournment for one week. Counsel refused to give an undertaking that publication of the alleged offending advertisement would be suspended in the interim.

A summons was also issued for E. Page, editor of The B.C. Veteran's Weekly, in connection with an advertisement calling attention to a coming football competition.

TO RESTORE B. C. HEADQUARTERS HERE

Navy League Provincial Secretary to Take Office Monday

The headquarters of the Provincial Division of the Navy League of Canada, which have been in Vancouver for some time, will be restored to Victoria, commencing next Monday.

The office duties will be in charge of Mr. Kennedy, who will have his office in the offices of Langley & Moore, barristers, at 301 Pemberton Building. Major Langley is now Provincial president of the League.

Mr. Kennedy has been a resident of British Columbia for about ten years. He was for twelve years in the British Navy, and for some years on the North Pacific station on H. M. S. Grafton.

The new provincial secretary will take over his office next Monday, and will be glad to meet citizens interested in the work of the Navy League.

Train Wrecked. Dublin, Aug. 17.—Reports have been received here of the destruction of bridges at various points, notably over the Shannon River in the Carrick district, with a consequent interference with railroad traffic.

Irregulars forcibly removed the crew from a train five miles from Tralee yesterday and sent the train crashing full speed into the Tralee Station. The train was wrecked and the station was badly damaged. Only the presence of mind of a signaller who diverted the train to a siding prevented loss of life.

LARGE RADISH. The long drought did not stunt the growth of a radish, grown by J. O. Stinson, who brought an exhibit of this useful vegetable to The Times office to-day. The radish weighs twelve and a half ounces, and has a circumference of twelve inches. Mr. Stinson grew this radish in his garden at his residence, 31 Highland Drive.

SUPREME COURT JUDGE ADDRESSES BAR CONVENTION

Mr. Justice Anglin Speaks of Provincial Laws

U. S. Visitors Went East from Vancouver To-day

Vancouver, Aug. 17.—It speaks well for the enthusiasm and professional zeal of members of the Canadian Bar Association that, having attended three lengthy sessions and a luncheon meeting on Wednesday, entertained their guests from the American Bar Association and having seen them on their way this morning, they provided nearly a hundred per cent. attendance when the convention was called to order at 10 a. m. in the Hotel Vancouver.

Practically every member of the Canadian Association was on hand and they were rewarded by hearing a thoughtful and interesting paper on the differences between the laws of Quebec and the other provinces of Canada. This was given by Mr. Justice Anglin, of the Supreme Court of Canada, a son of Hon. Timothy Anglin, former Speaker of the House of Commons, and a brother of Margaret Anglin, the famous actress of Canadian birth.

Travel Eastward. The American visitors went east over the Canadian Pacific in two special trains this morning. They will make stops at the mountain resorts. Before leaving they voiced their hearty appreciation of the arrangements made for their visit to Vancouver. In this they are joined by visiting members of the Canadian Association. Perfect weather, good convention headquarters and a programme of great benefit to the profession have combined to make the gathering the success predicted.

Chief Justice Harvey of Alberta presided this morning and the report of the Committee on International Law was presented by R. L. Reid, K.C., Vancouver.

Mr. Justice Anglin spoke for nearly an hour, tracing the source of English common law and the French civil code, pointing out the different interpretations and giving cases to show where the laws diverged.

Lawyers of Quebec and lawyers from the other provinces of Canada differ only in their views as to the means best adapted to achieve their common purpose," he said, "but of the existence of a (concluded on page 2.)

Parliament Divided. Parliament has been brought to a standstill by a dispute over the ranks of one of the Cantons. It is declared to be endeavoring to muster the balance of power and elect Sun Yat Sen President, while another group opposed to President Li is composed of supporters of Tiao Kun, powerful Tsuchun of the North, and other militarists who are fighting to maintain the Tsuchun system and throttle responsible government.

Eyes On Palace. Tiao Kun is reported hovering in the offing with his eyes on the presidential palace, prepared to seize power if the situation should develop in his favor.

A change of administration is considered imminent and foreign governments, through their legations, are watching the situation closely. The summary of conditions, as brought to the attention of the foreign representatives, presents a gloomy picture.

Treasury Empty. Civil employees, with heavy arrears of pay due them, have deserted their posts. The Government has almost reached the limit of its declining power on future revenue in its desperate efforts to operate on an empty treasury. Its army is on the verge of mutiny, tired of waiting for its pay. The Tsuchun, or military leaders, are openly defying the President in his efforts to enforce disarmament of the provincial troops. And up in Mukden, capital of Manchuria, General Chang Tso Lin, ex-hanibal with a well-paid, well-organized force at his back, and a full treasury chest at his command, again is menacing Peking, from whose gates Wu Pei Fu turned him back only a few short weeks ago.

Heroism at Burning of Quebec Orphanage. Montreal, Aug. 17.—With the arrival here of the inmates of the Jewish Orphanage at Shawbridge, destroyed by fire with a loss of twelve lives, including eight boys of the institution and the caretaker and his family, stories of a number of heroic deeds performed by juvenile rescuers were told.

The boys inmates were divided up into groups under the care of the older ladies. Each of the monitors instructed himself by coolness and bravery in the face of danger.

Several of the boys actually risked their lives for their charges.

FRENCH PREMIER ASKS DEBT REPORT

Commission to Return from United States

Paris, Aug. 17.—Premier Poincare has ordered the French Debt Commission, headed by Jean V. Parneton, to return to Paris from Washington immediately. It was learned to-day.

M. Parneton and his aides are expected to leave New York within the next few days. He has been ordered home to report to the Premier the results of conversations with American officials regarding the French debt to the United States.

The Commission probably will return to the United States in the autumn, it was said to-day, prepared to give a definite answer as to when France can commence making payments of interest and principal.

GREAT NEW YORK HOUSING SCHEME

New York, Aug. 17.—Haley Fluke, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, yesterday turned over the first spadeful of earth in the $100,000,000 housing plan which is to provide homes in Queens at $2 a room and help solve the housing problem.

Fifteen cents was the investment that netted a local resident a profit of one thousand per cent. for speaking two words on Tuesday. The scene was an auction in James Bay, the man said "fifteen cents" and the thump of the gavel gave him a plain box and contents. The contents proved to be four quart bottles of an excellent brand of Scotch whisky, when the purchase was examined and wrappings removed.

CANADIAN TO TRY AGAIN TO SWIM ENGLISH CHANNEL

Calais, Aug. 17.—Owing to sea sickness and a rising sea, Omer Perrault, of Montreal, abandoned his attempt to swim the English Channel after three hours in which he covered about 12½ miles. The Canadian swimmer started near Calais and was about nine miles from the French coast when he finished. He said he hoped to make another attempt this week to swim the Channel.

Efforts of Democratic Chinese Leaders Failing

Peking, Aug. 17.—The attempt to revive popular government in China is on the verge of collapse, according to a survey of conditions brought to the attention of the foreign legations. Military leaders are openly defying the Government, Cabinet Ministers are refusing to assume the responsibilities of their posts, the Treasury is empty and civil employees, unpaid, have quit their jobs.

President Li Yuan Hung, said to be disappointed at the lack of support, pledged him when he assumed office, has renewed his pleas to Sun Yat Sen to co-operate with Peking in an eleventh-hour attempt to prevent the militarists obtaining complete control of the government. President Li has dispatched a special envoy to Shanghai to offer Sun any facility for coming to the capital. It is understood that the chief executive's last throw in the game to block the rapacious Tsuchun (military leaders) in their designs to seize power and reunite the North and the South, and all observers here expect it to fail. A flat refusal from Sun Yat Sen is predicted.

Parliament Divided. Parliament has been brought to a standstill by a dispute over the ranks of one of the Cantons. It is declared to be endeavoring to muster the balance of power and elect Sun Yat Sen President, while another group opposed to President Li is composed of supporters of Tiao Kun, powerful Tsuchun of the North, and other militarists who are fighting to maintain the Tsuchun system and throttle responsible government.

JAPAN TO HOLD NORTH SAGHALIEN

Indications Russia Will Sell Half of Island Cheaply

Tokio, Aug. 16.—The Japanese Government is preparing for the evacuation of Nikolaievsk and other points in the Maritime Provinces, according to an independent observer who has just completed a tour of the country.

Northern Saghalien, on the contrary, shows signs of a prolonged stay on the part of the Japanese forces. The most apparent is the erection of further housing accommodation for troops at Alexandrovsk. This latter move suggests Japan expects to make a deal with Russia whereby she will receive Northern Saghalien by purchase and as compensation for the Nikolaievsk massacre.

Heretofore Russia has refused to assume responsibility for the Nikolaievsk massacre, but suggested that she might be willing to sell Saghalien at a price which would enable Japan to say she was compensated for the massacre.

Japan's latest move in Northern Saghalien is in line with an announcement made within the last month that she was considering an offer for the purchase of the island of Saghalien. The southern half of the island has been in Japanese hands for a considerable period, and the northern half ever since the massacre of Japanese at Nikolaievsk, a mainland point opposite the island of Saghalien, about two years ago.

Corns Go

Just say Blue-jay to your druggist

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. A touch stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in a colorless clear liquid (one drop does it) and in extra thin plasters. The action is the same.

ANALYST FOUND CHEESE WAS PURE

Canadians Not to Blame for Poisoning at Dover, Eng.

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—The analyst found nothing to indicate that the cheese was the cause of the illness, and the illness itself was not in any case serious.

This statement was made by J. A. Riddick, Dairy Commissioner, who is just back from an official trip to Great Britain, in regard to the report that Canadian cheese had caused the sickness of a number of residents of Dover.

Mr. Riddick stated that as soon as he heard of the trouble, he had it thoroughly investigated.

"The matter," he said, "apparently attracted more attention in Canada than in the Old Country. The case has been entirely forgotten and has done no harm to the trade in Canadian cheese."

EMPIRE NAVAL DEFENCE PLAN

New Zealand to Contribute £500,000 Annually

London, Aug. 17.—In the course of his business trip to New Zealand, Mr. Massey said that if the finances permitted, New Zealand would make a contribution next year and annually afterwards of £500,000 toward the maintenance of the Empire naval defence, says a Reuter dispatch from Wellington. The sum might appear small, he said, but it would be a move in the right direction and could be improved upon.

The Prime Minister said the past year's revenue had been £6,133,955 below the revenue for the previous year, but rigid economy had kept the expenses down to within £298,108 of the previous year's expenditure. He estimated the revenue for the coming year at £22,528,215, and the expenditure at £22,528,215.

The exports of New Zealand in the past year had amounted to £42,784,873, and the imports to £36,123,254. The naval expenditure had totalled £418,855.

FEWER BIRTHS AND DEATHS IN OLD COUNTRY

London, Aug. 17.—All-round reductions in the number of births, deaths and marriages are shown in the June quarterly report of the Registrar-General for England and Wales.

There was a natural increase of population of 80,000. Marriages totalled 161,000, a decrease of 65,000 compared with the preceding quarter.

TWO CONFECTIONERS NEED NO LICENSES

Kitchener, Ont., Aug. 17.—A decision of Dominion-wide interest was given in police court here yesterday when Magistrate Weir dismissed the cases of two local confectioners who had been summoned to appear for operating without having taken out manufacturers' licenses. Bar Association Hears Lord Shaw at Vancouver

Vancouver, Aug. 17.—"The nationhood of Canada and her place in the most august councils of the world are established and sure beyond question, established forever," said Lord Shaw, of Dunfermline, addressing the Canadian Bar Association at its annual convention here last night.

Lord Shaw's subject was "Law As a Link of Empire," and he contrasted the condition of isolation which might have existed among the various parts of the British Commonwealth, and the condition of independence and brotherhood which actually exists.

"I assert fearlessly," said Lord Shaw, "that those progressive nations of the world are alone fit to live who are loyal to the principles of law, which, emanating from the fountain of justice, flow into the channels of their rights and duties to mankind, which lift higher than domination the principles of equality and brotherhood, and which, by their service, unless the Great War has taught men to abjure the vulgar and false imperialism of selfish ambition to cherish the ministry of power, and to distinguish fair from foul, and foul from fair, law is a dead end and the war has been fought in vain."

Justice
"As to Canada, we can say of her, as of Australia, of Africa, of New Zealand, of the dominions of the British Empire itself. If the British Empire is to exist for itself, and not as a mere instrument of aggrandizement, it will perish, and its latest days will be its worst; but if it is to come to the rescue of humanity, to the succor of the oppressed, to the healing of society, it will do so by a homage to those principles of law which over-reach the boundaries of states and which, being consciously maintained, can bind an empire together by that marvelous reconciler, justice, inspirer of empire, justice itself. And this is the ministry of justice in which you and I are here and now enlisted. Law is the link of the Empire."

Canada
"I know well enough the ways of Diplomats to affirm that it would in their opinion be more correct to have a world of independent states, but the fact is there; it can never be gone back upon; the nationhood of Canada and her place in the most august councils of the world are established and sure, established beyond question, established forever. The link is hardly dry upon that concession of self-government to Ireland which it is hoped will bring peace to a land distracted for centuries. And the Irish constitution breathes the very words as well as the spirit of this great Canadian Dominion beyond the sea. You are the signatories of the British North America Act—the famous instrument of 'peace, order and good government' which we in the Privy Council have so well, the reference to Canada by name; all these crop up in this new constitution to which every lover of peace and enlightenment wishes well; who will deny now that your rise and greatness are not only an Imperial asset but an Imperial example?"

For the Future
"An Empire, believing in freedom and self-government, as a rule of right, not for the present alone, but for the future, recognizes also in the vast burden which it bears, the respect which is due to a mighty past; and it is the duty of the Empire to bring together the laws moved by the present-day spirit among the very dawn of recorded knowledge. This is a double responsibility demanded both by the ancient and by the modern spirit. This is the genius of the British system. Law, with this double homage, wields a jurisdiction over one-fourth of the population of the globe. 'Gentlemen of the Bar of Canada: that wide inheritance that you, as ministers of justice, have entered within this Empire. Varied Work. 'It was but the other day in the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council that a judgment of the board was written on the rights of the placer miners in the Yukon Valley under the law of British Columbia. The ink was hardly dry upon the judgment when another had to be composed dealing with the laying out of the town of Calcutta. The municipal laws of that great city had to be construed, and respect had to be paid to the rights of the workers of the mines, the Goddess of Destruction, in temples, pilgrim hostels and other buildings which were treasured endowments of their creed. Equality. 'You and I, who are accustomed to it—equality before the law—among the familiar fundamentals of legal procedure, are apt to forget how much that signifies in the government of an Empire upon which the sun never sets. On this point of equality alone what a privilege, for instance, is it not, for India and the furthest bounds of the British Empire to know that law upholding freedom, citizenship and conserving rights is administered with an equal hand, not to the zemindar, the rajah, the maharajah and prince alone, but down from them through every rank and order, caste and creed, to the humblest cultivating ryot on the Indian soil."

Life of Reason.
"They foreshadow the death of force and the life of reason in the government of human affairs. 'Then in her constitution also, as well as her situation, how grateful a country this wonderful Canada should be! She won it, and it has been made a model in Australia and South Africa, and even in Ireland, and in each of these cases, even the last, notwithstanding the acerbities of centuries of conflict, the sturdy ways among the kingdoms of the earth, they are consecrated symbols of good sense and good neighborhood."

Many Races.
"Nowadays the range of law administered in that council does truly embrace every climate, almost every race, religion and creed under the sun. Great, far-reaching, fundamental, interpenetrating, uplifting, workable, wholesome and enduring, are expounded, defended and applied, and the greatest varieties of adaptation and practice are recognized and respected in the appeal of this great brotherhood of nations within the Empire."

In the recent sittings the appeals from Canada almost equalled in number those from India, with a population of 400,000,000 souls, and, on the whole, the vigor of the tribunal, reinforced as it is by great men from India, Australia, Africa and Canada, does not appear to abate. Far be it from me, in my position, to make any reference of a laudatory character to the work of that tribunal. No, the reference is to a different kind. Day by day the question of the 'Old Book' propounds itself to the mind. 'Who is sufficient for these things? Testimonies reach us from all ends of the earth, of respect amounting to veritable homage, but that only deepens our sense of the magnitude of responsibility, of the need for guidance, of the consecration to Empire of the task to which we are engaged."

Observers in Britain Predict Stabilization of Living Costs

London, Aug. 17 (Canadian Press Cable)—Support is forthcoming in Labor Ministry statistics for the experts' prediction of a stabilization of prices around the present level. After several months of an almost stationary cost of living index, last month's figure shows a fall of three points, to eighty-one above the pre-war level. But this was entirely due to the heavy fall in the price of potatoes.

Employment, though still bad generally, has shown a further slight improvement. Unemployment on July 17 was approximately 1,400,000, compared with 1,455,000 at the end of June.

On the question of wages The Ministry of Labor Gazette announces that changes in rate effected in July resulted in a total reduction of nearly £490,000 in the weekly full-time wages of over 236,000 employees and an increase of £12,000 in the weekly wages of nearly 330,000. The principal reductions affected coal miners in the Yorkshire and East Midlands area, employees in the engineering industries generally and railway servants.

The court's ruling was based, it stated, on Article No. 1 of the American-Japanese Convention for the protection of copyrights.

Tokio, Aug. 15.—The United Artists' Corporation to-day won its civil suit in the Tokio district court to prevent the public showing of an alleged duplicated copy of David W. COMPLEX INDIA.

If the Right Honorable Srinivasa Sastri possessed the necessary physical stamina and could be spared from the important sphere in which he occupies such a commanding and influential position he could visit every important point in the British Empire and explain the various phases of India's evolution and progress towards self-government with the assurance of practical sympathy and understanding. But as it is not possible for him to do anything more than get into personal touch with the leaders of political thought and deliver an occasional address his present mission will have to serve the purpose of the larger undertaking.

How productive of results even this restricted educational mission will be may be judged by his remarks and their effect upon the large audience which gathered to hear him in this city yesterday. From start to finish his auditors were held by the charm of eloquence and clarity of expression that must have convinced them that in Mr. Sastri the native races of India have a staunch advocate and the British Empire a faithful friend and servant. Small wonder is it that so vast a section of the Commonwealth of Nations, over which the Union Jack flies should aspire to the status of nationhood as we in Canada understand and interpret the term. Less significant is that aspiration when one reflects upon the outstanding ability and statesmanship of men like "Victoria's distinguished visitor. As long as such as he identify themselves with India's development towards a fuller enjoyment of the franchise her progress will be consistent and successful.

It is not difficult to understand that India's numerous colors, castes, tongues, and aspirations present a condition whose complexity is well nigh unparalleled. It is not difficult to appreciate the dangers and pitfalls which minority representation must always produce. India, on a much more involved basis, is experiencing something of that condition that prevailed in Canada before the advent of constitutional equality which obliterated the strife between British and French and between Protestant and Roman Catholic. Her evolutionary stages will not differ in any particular from those through which many nations have passed on their way to representative government as understood by every democracy. India has only just commenced her long and difficult journey. Fanaticism has endeavored to play the role of handmaiden to republicanism; the conflict between Eastern and Western ideals has not been and may not always be pleasant to contemplate; but it is self-evident that the native mind, through its eloquent and talented interpreters, has long realized that such striving which it may have to do to develop its own imperfect understanding of constitutional responsibility will have to be done with the assistance of an institution which leads the world's democracies.

Mr. Sastri does not speak in parables. He is a student of Empire development and his value to India and to the Commonwealth lies in his dual understanding. On this account he knows what is good for his country, what is good for the Empire, and how it should be brought about. He would not say that all his own aspirations in respect of his native land would be good for India at the present time. But to him and to those who share his views will be submitted from time to time the more delicate questions affecting India's future. In such matters his guidance will be sound.

POOR BUSINESS.

If the civic authorities in the City of Vancouver have developed a habit of diverting surplus labor to Victoria it is just about time that the co-operative policy which we have advocated on a number of occasions was put into operation. The case of a man and wife and child having been sent here from the Terminal City with an assurance that the breadwinner would have no difficulty in finding employment once more emphasizes the necessity of some plan whereby this Province should not be made the dumping ground of unemployed people whose eyes are turned westwards as soon as harvesting operations are at an end. But an absence of the broader remedy for a condition which develops practically every Winter cannot be advanced as an excuse for the action of the Vancouver officials who wrongly advised the unfortunates referred to. And if this is one of several cases that have been brought to the attention of the Chief of Police it can be assumed that many other instances, in which the sufferers have not had the courage to take their troubles to official quarters, could be discovered. Surely the civic authorities in the more important cities of the Province could evolve some method by which innocent people might be saved the agony of mind that unemployment causes. Leaving it to chance will merely give British Columbia a black eye.

CLEANING IT UP.

Conditions in Southern Ireland do not seem to be alarming Mr. Michael Collins to any extent. His plans for clearing out the insurgents are running as smoothly as might be expected under unique circumstances. Town after town and stronghold after stronghold that were held fairly securely by the guerrilla bands under de Valera and his cohorts have fallen before the determined attacks of the Free State troops. One or two districts are giving the national army a fair amount of trouble and the control of several towns has changed several times. But it is safe to predict that these unsatisfactory conditions will be cured before very long. The people are getting heartily sick of the present uncertainty and its obvious threat to the economic existence of the country. Add this factor to the grim purpose of the Government's troops and the result supports Mr. Collins' prediction that he will have cleared away the trouble in about a couple of weeks from now. One significant fact, and a happy omen into the bargain, is the absence of conflict on the Ulster border—a very agitated spot some time ago.

STUMPING POWDER.

Stumping powder and its cost may convey little to the uninitiated; but it means a great deal to the farmer who wants to clear more land. Some conception of the importance which the commodity plays in the agricultural life of this Province may be gathered from the announcement made by the provincial Minister of Agriculture the other day. Because of rebates which have been given by the Government—covered by special grant from the Legislature—on stumping powder there are nearly seven thousand additional acres under cultivation in British Columbia this year. As a stimulant for land clearing the accommodation furnished by the public treasury looks like a profitable investment for all concerned. Certain it is that the more land that is made to produce the sooner will British Columbia reduce her dependence for food upon outside sources.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The French delegation has returned to France and Premier Poincaré is being acclaimed for the stand he took at the London Conference. Premier Lloyd George has the knowledge that his course was approved by his colleagues. It is now in order to ask, what next?

Discussing the Cranbrook result editorially, The Vancouver World seems to be rather doubtful about the accuracy of the Courthouse promise and expresses its dislike of the policy that the incident would seem to imply. But why put the dry dock at Esquimalt in the same category? This little matter certainly dies hard in the Terminal City.

Hon. John W. Davis, president of the American Bar Association and formerly United States Ambassador to the Court of St. James, predicts that within the next one or two centuries the North American continent will be the home of more than half of the white race with a population of six or seven hundred millions. We regret we shall not be here to experience the effect of a realization of this prophecy; all we can do in anticipation that the movement may start in this section of the country is to point out once more that Vancouver Island's natural resources are greater than those of Belgium, while its population is sixty times less. What we want is more faith, more co-operation, and less pessimism.

SINGLE TAX.

To the Editor—"MacSheumals" parts the ideal of single tax for us with an artist's hand. But, alas, as the poet sings:
 And I said in this world each ideal
 That shines like a star on life's wave,
 Is wrecked on the shores of the real,
 And sleeps like a dream in a grave.
 I respectfully invite my friend with the Highland Scottish name to come down from the dreamland and cloudland of theory to where Single Tax lies buried in its latest found grave. One of the "jumps" of the "single tax" as the French say: It has prepared for itself ample burial ground in Victoria.

OUR BUDS OF B.C.

To the Editor—The seeds are planted in British Columbia. They grow into fine young trees, some of them. Later they bud and just as they are ready to blossom they are nipped by a poor school system. The entrance couple of Lady Smith, B.C. did not get their marks but were passed on recommendation by one of the inspectors owing to that poor system.
 It would be a good plan to have inspectors and teachers born and educated in British Columbia if possible, but it is never will be possible if the younger generation does not get their children to English and American schools and universities. It is almost like driving them from British Columbia—like transplanting British Columbia seeds to other States. The people who cannot afford to send their children away get the worst of the deal. The Government, too, because in most cases the children are found amongst these same poor ones.

The children also need spiritual education in schools. A chapter of the Bible should be read each morning. This could easily be conducted by the teachers and have a more lasting effect than Sunday schools. Physical exercises also should be done in military fashion in the open air every day, thus preparing children both mentally and physically for the day's work.

MENACE TO INDIANS

To the Editor—Some time ago we were informed that the Government had decided to open a liquor shop at Campbell River, and it was not very long before the papers reported drunken scenes among a certain class of white people. Today we are informed that the liquor-selling Government is being asked to build a lock-up to take care of drunken Indians.

I have known the Campbell River Indians for upwards of fifty years, and apart from the white man's fire water, there are no better Indians in the Province, but I would not like to predict the result when these people become crazed with liquor.

I do not profess to be a prophet, but I am looking for trouble among the Saanich Indians as I understand a liquor shop has recently been opened at Sidney in the centre of a large Indian population, and there are plenty of men ready to use their permit in order to make a dollar by way of bootlegging to the Indians.

Instead of building jails to incarcerate the poor creatures it would be much more humane to shut up the liquor shops in all such places and thus conserve the lives of both whites and Indians.

OUR TRADE COMMISSIONERS.

To the Editor—I have before me your issue of the 29th ultimo in which is contained an editorial "Something Wrong?" the purport of which is to give prominence to the opinions of a Victoria merchant regarding two of our Trade Commissioners. I regret that before giving such prominence to these reflections on two of our officers, which has led you into misrepresentation of the facts, you did not make some enquiry which would have saved you from apparent concurrence in the strictures obviously based upon a superficial view. Had that enquiry been made, little if any ground would have been found for objection.

The first observations quoted referred to Major H. A. Chisholm, Trade Commissioner in Calcutta. Instead of being a mere novice, as is implied, Major Chisholm is a graduate of McGill University, has had a splendid training both in Canada and in Cuba, and was selected for this responsible post on the merits of his experience. During his occupancy of our office in Cuba, he made a special tour of Central American Republics and later on Mexico. The results of which have been widely circulated. A last year before his departure for India he toured Canada and spent some time in British Columbia. As to his qualifications, the Secretary of the District Branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and the Secretary of your own Board of Trade will be able to advise you.

The unsuitability of his quarters was coincident with his arrival in Calcutta in February, and illustrates the difficulty of securing adequate accommodation there. May I be permitted to state that instead of the Department was authorized some time ago to occupy better offices if they were available. It should be gratifying to know that instead of sitting in his office, he was out scouting for business. That he has been successful in this, the records of the Department can prove.

Our Trade Commissioner in Yokohama, Japan, is Mr. A. E. Eryan, and one of his qualifications was a knowledge of the Orient. Mr. Eryan is the son of a Canadian professor in the Imperial Service in Japan; he was educated in Canada, graduated from Toronto University and is married to a Canadian girl. Aside from his training under the Department in Ottawa, he was selected for this post from the very fact that he was familiar with the language, customs, and business of that country. By special request of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, Mr. Eryan was brought from Japan to attend the annual convention of that association in Vancouver in 1920, in order that he might assist in their investigation of Oriental markets.

If Canadian products, as the Vancouver correspondent states, are not being pushed as they should be in those markets to which he refers, does not the fault lie rather with Canadian exporters than with the Canadian trade representatives? If Canadian lumber is not being supplied to the Indian market, the reason therefor can best be obtained from Mr. H. MacMillan, of Messrs. H. R. MacMillan Company, Vancouver, one of the large exporters in Canada, and who have been successful in competing in India. During the war Mr. H. R. MacMillan was appointed a special Canadian Trade Commissioner, and in the interests of Canadian lumbermen made a tour of the Canadian provinces, with a view to ascertaining the prospects of selling Canadian lumber in these countries. The results of his investigations were published by this Department in a special report.

As to whether or not Canada is represented in large potential markets by officers fully qualified and capable of doing the services necessary, first hand corroboration or otherwise can be obtained not only as pointed out above from the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and Board of Trade, but from British Columbia exporters who are familiar with the work this Department is doing on their behalf through the Canadian Trade Commissioners.

This Department regards the two Trade Commissioners referred to by your correspondent as being eminently qualified and energetic, and I may add that this opinion has been amply corroborated in unsolicited letters of appreciation of the services they have rendered to Canadian exporters.

I trust that you will be kind enough to give this explanation the same prominence as you did to your Editorial.

Yours truly,
 F. C. T. O'HARA,
 Deputy Minister,
 Ottawa, August 10, 1922.

interpretations according to the classification here outlined:

Scene 1—Best general view of the city of Victoria that will, if possible, give an idea of its attractiveness and, at the same time, show its geographic location on the Island of Vancouver. The selection of the viewpoint is left, of course, to the judgment of the individual contestant. It may be that the best view may be obtained from the water or, again, from an elevation nearby.

Scene 2—Best general view of Victoria's waterfront showing, if practicable, the Straits of Juan de Fuca and the Olympic Mountains beyond, with a trans-Pacific steamship passing through the Straits.

Scene 3—Best view of Victoria's residential district with its homes, hedges and lawns all done in the old English fashion.

Scene 4—Best view of the stately Capitol buildings, that of the Government of the Province or of some other distinguished building in Victoria.

Scene 5—Best view of one of Victoria's parks.

Scene 6—Best view of some picturesque phase of human life or activity which is peculiarly characteristic of Victoria. This particular subject is included so as to give the contestant an opportunity to use his imagination and dramatic sense in the production of a "genre" picture concerning the Chinese quarter, for example, or some other characteristic and unique subject.

Basis of Award

In selecting the prize-winning groups of pictures, the judges will consider the exhibits on the following basis:

Civic individuality—that is, the worthiness of the subject selected by the contestant to be included in the group of six most distinctive views, 50 per cent.

Artistic composition, 25 per cent.

Photographic quality, 25 per cent.

In considering the merits of the photographs submitted, the judges will bear in mind the fact that these still photographs are to be used for publicity purposes and should be, therefore, of a quality which will produce halftone reproductions that will command public admiration.

All photographs submitted by the winners in this prize-winning contest are to become the property of the Burlington Route for its use in expediting the attractions of your city, and the Burlington is to have the right to purchase at any time in the future additional prints from the prize-winning negatives at a cost of twenty-five cents (25c) the print.

TOWN OCCUPIED BY IRISH INSURGENTS

Belfast, Aug. 17.—Advices from Greenore, in Northeastern County Louth, are to the effect that republicans have occupied Carlingford, nearby. Carlingford is the favorite summer home of Cardinal Logue, Primate of All Ireland. The cardinal left before the attack.

FINE FOOD FAILS TO LURE WORKERS

Despite all the promises that are being made by farmers of high quality food and table delicacies, the number of men who can be lured to the prairies to help in harvesting the almost record wheat crop is still inadequate.

Labor officials are trying to get unemployed men here to go as they will earn enough money during the harvest to keep themselves and their families during the winter, and besides until the cold months commence will have congenial and health-giving work and good treatment by farmers.

Twenty-five more men were shipped to the prairies from here on the afternoon boat and 25 more will go at midnight. This makes less than 400 altogether from this city.

It was suggested to labor bureau officials to-day by unemployed that more men would be willing to take the trip to the prairies if the city would pay their railway fare, as was being done last winter. At present men have to pay their own fares, which are $11 to Edmonton of Calgary.

Gerald Roe, manager for Burdick Bros., called up this newspaper to-day and asked what next would come into a broker's office.

He had just seen a customer leave a door partly open and who should come in through it from the elevator, but an ambitious young quail, Mr. Roe welcomed the bird and the young fellow scooped proudly up the main aisle. Then he stopped, took a look at an operator and decided apparently he did not like him, as he turned and fled down the office towards a stenographer. Then the chase commenced. All the clerks in the office came to Mr. Roe's aid. Major Gus Lyons, a bond manager, came in and with visions of quail on toast he joined the chase.

The pursuit around the office waxed so hot that the mystified quail soon gave in and came into Mr. Roe's hands. Mr. Roe took pity on him, abandoned all ideas of a tender meal and carried him down to the Empress Hotel grounds. There he turned him loose in the hopes that he would soon make friends and fraternize with members of some of the convalesces there.

No one knows how the quail got on to one of the upper floors of the Pemberton Building.

U. S. TO DEPORT FIVE MEXICANS

San Bernardino, Cal., Aug. 17.—Moves to deport five strikers are rested last night with three other strikers following a riot at the Santa Fe yards here in which several employees of the railroad were beaten.

Five Mexicans are under arrest, and it was announced that machinery would be put in motion for their return to Mexico as undesirable.

The arrest of eight strikers here last night was made when police and Federal officials broke up a demonstration by strikers and strike sympathizers in front of the shops.

Later in the evening three bombs were hurled at a Santa Fe train which had been forced to slow down because of slippery tracks, which had been oiled by strike sympathizers.

Vancouver, Aug. 17.—The past week's bank clearings here were $12,959,858.

DEANVILLE BEACH

TRULY DAZZLING

Deauville, Aug. 17.—With the coming of really summery weather the spotlights are shifted from the gambling rooms to the beach, which is the centre of attraction both morning and afternoon.

The bathing costumes are more sensational than ever, and if anything, scantier. One-piece silk suits trimmed with fur are fairly common, but considerable attention was excited by a few Parisiennes who appeared in black velvet effect with searlet ribbon trimmings. Needless to say, her "bathing" consisted solely in a sun bath on the sand.

Only a few backward American women venture to show themselves in skirted sea costumes, such prudery arousing derision among the habitués.

The quaintest feature of the noon bathing hour is a diminutive monkey, Mrs. Malcolm Walte's pet, which rides into the surf daily on the back of a huge Alaskan police dog. Mrs. Walte's husband, a former star of the Dartmouth football team, leading the way.

The display of modes is at its height on the beach, and in the afternoon the women of the American contingent mostly wear sport clothes, leaving the extremes of the Parisian fair ones. As a fashionable after-lunchon pastime polo has given way to racing. Frank O'Neill and other star jockeys arrived yesterday. The final polo match for the William the Conqueror's prize was won by the White-Tommy Hitchcock, Freddie Prince, Count de Paetie and H. de Montbrison. The vanquished Reds four was composed of Marquis de San Miguel and Count de la Maza. The tennis tournament, in which Suzanne Lenglen and the Japanese champion Mitsu are stars, is the opening phase. In the evening people dance first, then gamble.

ORIENTAL PRINCESS AND AUTHOR NOW AN AMERICAN

Mrs. Thaddens C. White, Recent Visitor Here, Had Romantic Marriage

An Oriental Princess with the very Occidental name of Miss Thaddens C. White of Peking and Shanghai, was among the distinguished and interesting passengers who reached Victoria on the Empress of Canada on Monday en route for New York. Before her marriage to her American husband, Mrs. White was Princess Ter Ling, daughter of Prince Yu Keng, and a lady-in-waiting to the Empress Dowager of China. To the charm and dignity redolent of centuries of Eastern tradition, the former Princess has added a piquant veneer of western ideas, and is the embodiment of the spirit of modern China.

Questioned as to her romantic marriage Mrs. White explained the circumstances which led to her renouncing the title and position of a Princess.

"You see, my father was minister to several European countries as well as to Japan and America during my childhood and girlhood. I was educated in Paris, and travelled a great deal—to Italy, to Switzerland, to England. My secret ambition was to be an actress, but of course that was not possible for a girl in my position. My father would not hear of it, but my mother said that if I had talent, why should I not amuse myself as an amateur? She studied music, singing, piano, the harp, and dancing while I was in Paris.

"Then I returned to China, and became lady-in-waiting to the Empress in Peking. I was very young, about 18 then. Some time later the illness of my father brought me to Shanghai, and I stayed at home for a while. And there I met my husband, who was at that time in the consular service. You see, we had a friend, an English lady who wished to give a recital of music, and she asked my mother if we, my sister and I, could dance at the recital. But I was out of practice, and went one day to our friend's studio to rehearse. And just in the middle of it, there was a knock at the door, and a young man came in.

"So that was how I met my husband. He was stage manager for the recital and of course I saw him again."

"But the Empress, what did she say?"

"Oh, she was much against it. I could not be married without her consent, but finally she gave it. My title I was done with it then. I became an American. And this has been very, very happy. This life is best."

Book of Memoirs.

But Mrs. White did make use of her title at least once again, for after the death of the Empress, she was persuaded to write a book of memoirs which appeared under the title of "Two Years in the Forbidden City," under her maiden name of Princess Ter Ling. She also wrote articles from time to time.

Speaking of her life in Peking, Mrs. White said she was one of eight ladies-in-waiting. "We had a very happy time, quite gay. In the morning the Empress attended to affairs of state, but in the afternoon we played games—chess, cards, etc.—and went to the theatre. There was a great deal of formality, of course. We were not allowed to go shopping. The things were brought to the palace that we might choose what we wanted. And when we went out, we went in chairs, with the curtains drawn, and with outriders. It was quite irksome to me, for I had lived so long in Paris and been allowed to shop when I pleased.

"But that is all changing; China is a republic now. The world is looking to China, is it not? These revolutions—they are storms in a tea cup. Why, in Peking, perhaps there is a revolution outside the walls; you can hear the guns firing, and the people—they just shrug their shoulders and go dancing on the house-tops. This unrest must necessarily be after a revolution; just think of France after the revolution. But the people are fighting one another in China; it is not good."

SHIP'S OFFICER WEDS LOCAL BRIDE

Miss Lila Boydell Married to Engineer on Empress of Asia

A wedding of much interest to residents of Vancouver and New Westminster took place at the Metropolitan Methodist Church yesterday afternoon at 1:30, when the Rev. Dr. Sippell officiated at the marriage of Lila Jane Boydell, daughter of Mrs. J. A. Boydell, of 2745 Scott Avenue, Victoria, to William L. P. Murison, of New Westminster, engineer on the liner Empress of Asia. The church was beautifully decorated with a profusion of summer flowers by gir friends of the bride.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. John R. Boydell, and looked very winsome in her gown of white satin trimmed with shadow lace panels and pearls, with veil caught to the hair with orange blossoms, and her bouquet was of bridal roses and carnations. The two bridesmaids, the Misses Janet and Dorothy Lewis, sisters of the bridegroom, wore charming frocks of organdie in sweet pea shades, with the flower girls, Patricia Phipps, cousin of the bridegroom, and Doreen Hearle, niece of the bride, were gowned alike in organdie in pastel shades, all the bridal attendants carrying bouquets of sweet peas. Mr. Thomas E. Ainsworth was the best man, and Messrs. R. A. Wootton and John Gough were the ushers. During the ceremony Mr. Edward Parsons presided at the organ and Miss J. Taylor sang "Untill" with much feeling.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the grounds at the residence of Mrs. E. E. Wootton, 1242 Richardson Street. The young couple were assisted in receiving their many guests by Mrs. J. A. Boydell, mother of the bride, who was gowned in grey, satin and silver lace, with blue hat trimmed with a grey plume; Mrs. B. Lewis, mother of the bridegroom, who wore navy blue, cotton, crepe heavily embroidered and a smart hat of black straw, and Mrs. Wootton, who was in gown of embroidered grey taffeta. Later Mr. and Mrs. Lewis left on a honeymoon tour of Alaska and the Yukon, the bride traveling in a dress of fawn and brown tricot with cape to match, and small hat with tangerine and small with a flowing veil. On their return they will reside in Victoria.

NOVEL "COURT OF LOVE" COMMENCES ITS OPERATIONS

New Jersey Tribunal Mates Undertaker to Nurse; Many Applicants

Hammon, N. J., Aug. 17.—There has come into being here one of the strangest courts in all the world—the court of love—where men and women in search of mates may come, pour out the longings of their hearts and be succored. Before the court are the qualifications and the yearnings of some 100 bachelors and 1,100 spinsters, but the first day's work resulted in only five matings. These, however, were shining examples of what may come.

A man, 62 years of age, was mated with a gold star mother, 43 years of age; an undertaker, a consanguine husband for a nurse; a consanguine was picked to become the protector and life companion of a fair divorcee. A widow was slated to become the helpmate of a man, at least a daughter of the mountains—was snatched up by Thomas Bancroft Delker, founder of the court.

The court of love, be it known, is constituted much the same as any other court, having a presiding judge, or Cupid in disguise, and a jury of seven, including the chief of police, a former soldier, a telegrapher and four women.

The idea of the court, so the story goes, was conceived over a plate of hash in the town restaurant by Delker and Lewis Conley, Hammon's leading clear store proprietors. They organized the lovers co-operative union, which in turn produced the love court.

Court sat for the first time in the one and only moving picture house. Bleeding hearts, with black arrows piercing their throats, decorated the bench and the jury box. The first audience was made up of twelve newspaper reporters, six photographers and two boys.

Delker opened court by reading the letter from the lonely Kentucky belle and after going over her qualifications asked the jury to recommend him, which it did.

It was announced that of 1,100 women who sought husbands, the youngest was 18 and the oldest 69. The youngest male applicant was 23 and the oldest 72.

The jury deliberated some time in mating the Gold Star Mother, whose home is in Norwalk, Conn., and the 62-year-old man from Elmhurst, N. Y. They explained in deciding in favor of the man, that he was well preserved, had a good job and a healthy bank account. He is much younger than his years," they reported.

The five women whose cases were disposed of were not notified in case they were dissatisfied with the findings of the court they had two weeks within which to file applications for new hearings.

MUSTER SHOWED CREW AUGMENTED BY MANY CHINESE

Fifty-three Chinese Taken in Raid on Liner President Jackson

Seattle, Aug. 17.—Fifty-three Chinese were arrested by immigration officials yesterday in a raid on the shipboard, board steamship President Jackson, which arrived Monday from the Orient. Immigration Commissioner Luther A. Weeden declared that the arrests frustrated the most extensive plot uncovered here to smuggle Orientals into the United States.

"Scrutiny of the President Jackson began Monday, when Lee Poo, arrested by an inspector who noticed him on the dock, was found to have a stub ticket, good only from Hongkong to Yokohama. Apparently all the Chinese arrested, said the commissioner, boarded the ship at Hongkong and failed to get off at Yokohama, where their transportation ran out.

Captain James Griffith, in command of the President Jackson, expressed astonishment that so many Chinese were aboard his ship. It is said that the Orientals made no effort at concealment on the way across the ocean, mingling with the Chinese crew and stowage passengers and some working as waiters.

A muster of the crew this morning disclosed the presence of many Chinese who were not on the vessel's books. As soon as the arrests began the greatest disorder arose. Through-out a search of several hours the Chinese were hiding all over the ship. They were taken from state-rooms, lockers and ice boxes, and from behind doors and furniture and one from under a mattress.

At the immigration station the prisoners appeared a young and intelligent lot. They smiled and did not seem downhearted.

INSURANCE PRESIDENT RECOMMENDS BICYCLE

Every man should take plenty of rational, open-air exercise. I am strong for the bicycle and will always encourage its use. "Do you ride a bicycle regularly?" ought to be put into the medical blank for applicants for insurance. No person who rides every day and does not abuse the exercise ever gets sick.

Fire Yesterday Afternoon.—Fire along the shavings at the Lemco Gonnason mill at 3.35 o'clock yesterday gave the department a short run to extinguish the blaze. A blazing motor car on the Gorge Road at 5.15 o'clock took the firemen out for the second run of the afternoon.

English Mail Arrives.—An English mail consisting of seven bags of papers and ten bags of letters arrived at the local post office for distribution this morning. The packet left London on August 4 on the Mauretania and took thirteen days in coming over. This is considered a fast delivery.

Mrs. Coleman was the convener in charge of the affair.

In Critical Condition.—Reports from St. Joseph's Hospital to-day indicated that Alfred J. Sentenced To Jail.—Electing speedy trial before His Honor Judge McIntosh in the County Court to-day, Joseph Hoar, charged with theft of clothing from Carl Lager, a logger at Langford Lake, was found guilty and sentenced to six months in jail. A previous record for another offence, in the city court, was brought against the accused. J. S. Brandon acted for the Crown, the accused being undefended.

WEDDING FOLLOWS WAR ROMANCE

George Baird, of 1109 Busby Street, well known Canadian Post Office official, went to the front early in the war and won honors for his fighting. On one of his leaves he visited his old town of Newcastle-on-Tyne and took a look around Scotland. While there he met Miss Jean Crawford Kemp, of Port Glasgow, a pretty little Red Cross volunteer. She was fascinating and he became quite interested in her.

The end of the war came and he was sent back to Victoria and discharged. In all the excitement he lost touch with her and never thought he would see her again.

One day while on his duties here, whom should he meet as if by lucky accident, but his little Red Cross friend of overseas. The meeting was a surprise to both. The young man decided to come to Canada and when they started they kept on travelling until they reached Victoria.

After such romantic accidental happenings it did not take them long to decide to be married and last night the Rev. Thomas Menzies, M. P., performed the ceremony under a large wedding bell with decorations of pink and white and blue berries at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wille, 1138 Pembroke Street. The bride entered on the arm of Mr. Wille, while Mrs. Harry King played the wedding march. She wore brown tulle and lace, embroidered in taupe and gold, and a white satin hat trimmed in silver. She carried a bouquet of bridal roses and carnations. Miss Elizabeth Kerr Kemp, her sister, in a dress of navy taffeta and a bouquet of pink carnations, was bridesmaid. Mrs. Wille was matron-of-honor. Little Eileen Baird and Zelma Wille in dainty silk dresses and carrying baskets of summer flowers were flower girls. George Reid Klorence was best man and J. A. Shanks gentleman-of-honor. During the signing of the register Miss

Isabelle Taylor sang, "O Promise Me".

Mr. and Mrs. Baird left for Seattle in the evening on a tour of Washington. She wore a travelling dress of tricot with a blue and white. They will live on Beachwood Avenue.

The meeting which was held at the V.I.A.A. club quarters at Curtis Point last evening to discuss ways and means of arranging different attractions to augment the Billy Muir Fund was largely attended by members of the various swimming clubs of the city. Mr. Weight, of the Elks' club, acted as chairman of the meeting, and after a lengthy discussion regarding same it was unanimously agreed that a committee of five members of each of the clubs would act as trustees of the fund and arrange a series of entertainments, etc., to help boost the fund to a mark that will take care of all of the hospital expenses of the injured diver and leave a balance to cover the overhead of his maintenance. As soon as the various clubs nominate their delegates a meeting will be held and an energetic campaign started to bring in the funds.

BALLOTS TWELVE TO ONE FOR DR. SHORTT'S REPORT

That is Gist of First Half Hundred Received: Some Ratepayers Abusive

Fifty ballots have been received at the City Hall in the street vote on Dr. Adam Shortt's financial report and they were overwhelmingly in favor of the report as a whole. With forty-six ballots in favor of the report and four objecting to certain portions or all of it, the voting so far is nearly twelve to one in support of the document.

Opponents of the Shortt report, led by Mayor Marchant, are not surprised at this turn of events. They declared to-day that a very large proportion of the people who have marked their ballots in favor of the report have not read the document. If they had read it, it was explained, they would not have been able to return it to the City Hall so quickly. Several days to waste through the document intelligently.

The four lonely ratepayers who do not agree with the report as a whole are rather vague as to their objections. One of them has failed to indicate at all what he thinks of the report. Another has used the City's next post card ballot to carry a scornful message to the Mayor and aldermen. He frankly suggests that the whole City Council should be sand-bagged and thrown into the Inner Harbor. He proposes a particularly ghastly fate for certain particular aldermen. Another man has written across his ballot that he does not approve of outsiders coming to Victoria to tell Victorians how to run their business.

EARLY MORNING FIRES.

Before the day was three minutes old this morning the fire department were called out to a bush fire near the water on Menzies Street. The alarm was rung at 12.03, and the fire out a few moments later. At 12.59 a. m. the department quelled a blaze in an old barn at the corner of Blinshard and Cormorant Street, some damage being done.

CONCERT TO-MORROW.

Sooke, Aug. 17.—A concert will be held under the auspices of the Sooke Women's Institute in the Sooke Public Hall on Friday, a fine programme of vocal and instrumental music has been arranged. A sketch entitled "The Dearest Skule" will be given by local artists, and the Sooke Girl Guides and boys of the Navy League are also taking part with a number of drills and marches. As the concert is in aid of the Sooke Piano fund it is hoped there will be a large attendance.

I First Compounded This Remedy For My Own Neighbors

Their praise of their newer form of iron has spread so rapidly that nine years ago, 4,000,000 people use it annually.

Years ago I began to wonder at the great number of my own friends and neighbors who were always illing, complaining and doctoring, and ever seeming to get any better. Both working men and their wives were frequently all tired out in the evening, and many of them were weak, nervous and run-down. One had pains in the back and thought he had kidney trouble. Another had pains around the heart, palpitations and dizziness, and was sure he was suffering from heart disease. Still others had severe headaches, floating spots before the eyes, tender spots along the spine and a great variety of alarming symptoms.

For years I made a special study of the condition, consulting a great number of physicians and chemists. An immense number of investigations by physicians all over the country showed that three people out of every four you meet lack 100% iron in their blood. Lack of iron in the blood is the greatest of all devastating weaknesses. It is the iron in your blood that enables you to get the nourishment out of your food. Without iron, nothing you eat does you any good. Your heart, lungs and kidneys and all your vital organs get their nourishment from the blood stream, and when the blood lacks iron and is thin, pale and watery, you may suffer from the symptoms of a great number of diseases when the real and true cause of all your trouble is a lack of iron in the blood.

In the old days people often took metallic iron, which was a waste of time and money, and which did not get absorbed at all. In compounding Nuxated Iron I use the newer form of iron, which is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. Unlike the older forms of iron, it will not irritate the teeth nor disturb the stomach, and it is ready for almost immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood. It is the people whose blood is rich in iron who possess great strength, force and energy. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test:

See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two 5-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times a day after meals for two weeks—then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. As you gain strength, your nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while, have greatly improved their health and increased their strength, energy and endurance simply by taking this newer form of iron.

ESQUIMALT OUTING A GREAT SUCCESS

Hundreds Enjoy Outing at Rodd Hill

Favored with ideal weather, and one of the most charming natural locations for the holding of such an event, the second annual picnic of the Esquimalt Merchants Association at Rodd Hill proved a tremendous success in every way.

There must have been well over one thousand residents of the municipality at the function, a big feature of which was the attendance of a large band under the leadership of Bandmaster George Galger and made up for the most part of members of the popular 14th Scottish Band. For this treat the picnicers had to thank E. Reid, who upon hearing of the plans for the picnic immediately declared that he would contribute a band.

Everyone enjoyed the splendid programme of sports which had been arranged for the occasion, and it was a great sight to see the people dancing on the green in the evening to the strains of the band music.

Appreciate Mr. Young's Work.

A. G. Young was also accorded an expression of deep appreciation for the time and trouble expended in order to make the picnic a success. The various committees looked after the details in fine shape and the Esquimalt Women's Institute undertook to attend to the making of tea. Mrs. Ricketts, president of the institute, was assisted by Mesdames Bloor, Cave, Rodgers, Carroll and Wilson.

The co-operation and assistance of the officers and men stationed at Rodd Hill was very welcome and their participation and interest in the sports added to the success of the affair.

Reeve is Cheered.

Reeve Alex. Lockey was given a great reception on opening the picnic. In a few well chosen words he complimented the Esquimalt merchants on their enterprise and the spirit of co-operation that existed, and without which no progressive movement could succeed. Just before leaving the grounds the picnicers gave three hearty cheers for Reeve and the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." Cheers were also given for the women's institutes and the band.

There were lots of interesting events on the programme and the picnic was the very excellent prizes given for the various contests. These were all contributed by merchants of Esquimalt. The merchants expressed appreciation of the co-operation of the wholesalers and others for the use of trucks and the use of various necessary articles used at the outing. Yarrow, Limited, loaned the wooden horse, "Captain Cuttle," which created a lot of fun for the kiddies.

Present Silver Cup.
A presentation of a silver cup was made by Mrs. James Nichol, president.

dent of the Scottish Daughters' League, of Esquimalt, to Mrs. Arthur G. Young, who holds the honor of being parent to the second Scottish daughter born in Esquimalt since the organization was formed.

The women and children took keen delight in the various sports events and there were competitions for the young and old. The grandmothers and grandfathers' races caused a lot of amusement and Mrs. Dobie and Mrs. Hodgson won first and second prizes. The grandfathers' race was very keen. Messrs. Dobie and Ricketts, setting the second tie by tossing a coin and Mr. Dobie won.

The real event, however, was the tug of war in which a team of artillery men coached by Arthur Young pulled against the team captained by Reeve Lockey. It was claimed that "Bustle" Dickinson the weighty anchor man for the artillery squad was responsible for the inability of the Reeve's aggregation to budge the soldiers. "You couldn't pull those fellows from a blade of grass," remarked the Reeve, who was all out of breath, following the unusual exertion.

The various committees which supervised the picnic arrangements were as follows:
Finance: Messrs. Hodgson, Pickard and Wilson.
Refreshments: Messrs. Neilson, Perry and Woods.

AMALGAMATION MAY BE EFFECTED

H. D. Twigg Optimistic As to Prospects of United Veterans' Organization

That amalgamation of all veteran organizations was by no means impossible of execution but a probability that daily increased was the contention advanced by Post Commander H. D. Twigg at the regular session of the Canadian Legion, Victoria Post, last night. That the service men were bereft of their power through numerous divisions and overlapping was held by the speaker, who deplored the scattered organizations of the present day. The Canadian Legion, continued the speaker, were all ready for wise amalgamation, and in this would not seek to preserve the name above others, but would co-operate with all in a general scheme for unity.

In reply to condolences sent to Lady Wilson on the occasion of the murder of the late Sir Henry Wilson, was accorded a reply from the speaker, which was read at the meeting. The unemployment committee reported that during the week ending August 12, 1922, there were 15,000 unemployed in the Dominion. CHINESE TO PRODUCE FAIRIES' CARNIVAL

Variety Theatre Rented for Month by Local Interests Under Albert Mar

Rented for the current month, Chinese interests will present "Fairies' Carnival," a well-known Chinese drama of ancient times, at the Variety Theatre on Friday next. The drama is to be staged by a troupe of Chinese actors lately arrived from the Orient, including some well-known members of that profession in the Far East.

The intended play, it is pointed out, will follow the lines of the ancient theme of that name, and will be concluded in one evening. The play is to be staged with greater attention to detail than usual among former Chinese productions here. The theatre has been leased for the occasion and for the remainder of the month by Albert Mar on behalf of local Chinese interests.

The theme of the play is a love story of one in high political circles who falls in love with a beautiful fairy, and marries her. The conventional villain is introduced in an unconventional way and is finally vanquished by the hero, after a desperate tussle. On the birthday of the hero the Fairies assemble, and the play ends on the exploit, and all ends happily.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

Looking Over Ruins.

Gustav Seiffert and Harry Quickst arrived on the Rupert, Sunday, and on Tuesday, accompanied by R. O. Erickson and William Forest, left for the upper Bear River, where Mr. Seiffert will make an inspection of the ruins and other properties on behalf of a feaster capital, says the Portland Canal News. It will be remembered that Mr. Seiffert had a bond on the Red Top property in 1920, but owing to floods, not being able to complete his season's work, he was forced to ask for an extension of time. Not obtaining what he considered satisfactory terms, he reluctantly forfeited his bond. Harry Quickst, who is associated with Mr. Erickson in several properties, is an old timer in the north, having mined near Nome for 12 years and for another three years at Valdez. He is also owner of the Louis Bay copper mine, which is in the same zone, and twenty-four miles from the Guggenheim property at La Touche.

The Dominion Geological party, headed by Dr. Hanson, with his assistant R. W. Goranson and two camp helpers arrived in Terrace on Thursday. Dr. Hanson, walking through from the Naas, following the Telegraph Trail, says the Terrace News. The party have been working in the Alice Arm district the first part of the season, and will spend two months in the territory between Terrace and Lava Lake. They will fix their first camp at the head of Kalam Lake, and will make short trips, and later fix camp at either Lava or Red Sand Lake, and complete the strip right through to the Naas. The nature of the work will be purely geological in character, and maps showing the granite trend, the sedimentary volcanic and lava rocks will be made. These four divisions will be traced through the whole valley. Aside from this work, Dr. Hanson will visit any of the mining properties that prospectors may want him to look over and give any assistance that he can.

LIFE UNDERWRITERS TO MEET IN TORONTO

A conference of 2,000 salesmen of Life Insurance companies in the United States and Canada will hold an International Convention in Toronto from August 22 to 24 inclusive. Many of the larger companies are sending big parties of their best salesmen. A New York company will send a party of 250, 100 will come from a Detroit company, while a Chicago corporation are sending 60 of their sales staff. This will be the biggest gathering of Life Insurance salesmen in the world, and the first time that the International Convention has been held on Canadian soil.

Short talks of an extemporaneous nature by experts on the various subjects will be followed by general discussion. The interchange of ideas brought out by the discussions being deemed of great benefit to those attending the conference, more time will be devoted to this than to the speeches introducing the subjects.
